- 1984 Volunteer, Northwestern Archaeological Field School. Excavations at the Elizabeth Mounds site (11PK512), Calhoun Co., Illinois (July-Aug.).

- 1983 Student, Northwestern Archaeological Field School. Excavations at the Elizabeth Mounds site (11PK512), Calhoun Co., Illinois (June-Aug.).
- 1983 Crew member, Washington University. Phase II test excavations at site 23SL516, St. Louis Co., Missouri (May).
- 1983 Crew member, Washington University. Phase I survey of pipeline corridor in St. Louis Co., Missouri (Jan.-Feb.).

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- 2006- Laboratory Coordinator/Physical Anthropologist, ITARP, University of Illinois. Coordinate lab procedures and activities at all the ITARP labs. As a certified physical anthropologist with the state of Illinois, I am involved with excavations, analysis, and report writing of human skeletal remains (June 2006-present).
- 1996- Laboratory Director/Physical Anthropologist, ITARP, University of Illinois. Supervised students in the 2006 processing and curation of archaeological materials. Inventoried both prehistoric and historic materials collected during Phase I and Phase II surveys throughout the state. Assisted physical anthropologist in recordation of human skeletal remains in collections in compliance with NAGPRA. As a certified physical anthropologist with the state of Illinois, was involved with several excavations and analysis of human skeletal remains whenever necessary (March 1996-June 2006).
- 1994- Laboratory Supervisor/Physical Anthropologist, ITARP, University of Illinois. Supervised students in the 1996 processing and curation of archaeological materials. Inventoried both prehistoric and historic materials collected during Phase I and Phase II surveys throughout the state. Assisted archaeobotanist in sorting and identification of botanical materials recovered from flotation samples. Assisted physical anthropologist in recordation of human skeletal remains in collections in compliance with NAGPRA (October 1994-March 1996).
- 1993- Skeletal Analyst, Center for Archaeological Investigations, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. 1994 Conducted analysis (age, sex, inventory) of prehistoric skeletal material excavated during the Phase II Amex Delta Mine Mitigation Project (August-August).
- 1992 Skeletal Analyst, Illinois State Museum. Conducted osteological analysis (age, sex, inventory) of prehistoric skeletal material on exhibit at Dickson Mounds Museum prior to reburial (June-Oct).
- 1992 Project Director, Center for Archaeological Investigations, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Conducted analysis of prehistoric and historic materials recovered during Phase I survey for extension of South 51 (April).
- 1987- Graduate research assistant to Dr. George Milner, Pennsylvania State University. Compiling information 1988 about late prehistoric ceramics in the American Bottom (Fall-Spring).
- 1985- Skeletal Analyst, Illinois State Museum. As part of my internship, I reanalyzed human remains from the 1950s 1988 excavations at Modoc Rock Shelter (11RA501).
- 1985 Lab Director, Illinois State Museum. Directed processing of flotation and water screened samples from Modoc Rockshelter (11RA501) (April-June).

PAPERS AND PRESENTATIONS AT PROFESSIONAL CONFERENCES

- 2012 Varying Mortuary Practices of the East St. Louis Mound Mound Complex. Paper presented at the 2012 Southeastern Archaeology Conference in Baton Rouge, Louisiana as part of the symposium entitled 'Mississippian Urban Archaeology: Discoveries from the East St. Louis Mound Complex in Greater Cahokia'. (Lenna M. Nash, Eve A. Hargrave, and Katherine R. McDonald)
- 2012 Skeletal Analysis of the Human Remains from Cahokia Tract 15B. Paper presented at the 2012 Annual Illinois Archaeological Survey Meetings in Urbana, Illinois. (Aimee Carbaugh and Eve Hargrave)
- 2011 Rediscovering Ancient Cahokia: New Insights from Old Collections. Poster presented at the Annual Midwest Bioarchaeology and Forensic Anthropology Association (BARFAA) meetings, Illinois State University, Normal, Illinois. (Julie A Bukowski, Kristin M. Hedman, Eve A. Hargrave, Mary Hynes, Matthew A. Fort, and Phillip A. Slater)
- 2010 Marker Posts, Sacred Space and Mortuary Ritual at the East St. Louis Site. Paper presented in the symposium entitled 'Archaeology of the East. St. Louis Mound Center ' at the Annual Midwest Archaeology meeting in Bloomington, IN. (Eve A. Hargrave and Julie A. Bukowski)
