

Jada P. Zook
CURRICULUM VITAE

Address:

500 W State St. Apt 1J
Jacksonville, IL 62650

Education:

Indiana University
Bloomington, IN. 47405
B. A., 2012
Major: Anthropology
Minor: Folklore

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT EXPERIENCE:

Illinois State Archaeological Survey

Prairie Research Institute
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Western Illinois Field Station
Office Manager/Lab Supervisor
604 East Vandalia Road
Jacksonville, IL 62650

Office Manager/Lab Supervisor: (2012- Present) duties include, but are not limited to, preparing field projects for crew chiefs, editing, formatting, and submitting Archaeology Survey Short Reports (ASSRs) and Archaeological Testing Short Reports (ATSRs), and the management of laboratory duties such as washing, labeling, material transfers, and curation. I manage several different databases for sites, burials, and projects. I excel in different computer graphics programs to create digital versions of mapped features and edit artifact photographs. I also have participated in a wide variety of fieldwork duties, surveying, excavating, mapping, and field data collection employing GPS technology.

Indiana University Midwest Archaeology Laboratory

Indiana University
Laboratory Assistant
Bloomington, IN 47407

Laboratory Assistant: (2011-2012) primary duties included collecting data from pottery analysis to use in updating and creating a database of ceramic attributes from two Southern Indiana prehistoric sites. I used the information from the ceramic analysis for a senior thesis on a comparison of two Caborn-Welborn sites. Other duties included, but were not limited to washing artifacts, ceramic reconstruction, and assisting in the excavation of a historic site.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS:

Midwest Archaeology Conference (MAC)

PAPERS PRESENTED AT PROFESSIONAL MEETINGS:

Fitts, Lauren, Jada Zook, and Jennifer Goldman

2013 New Insights on Jersey Bluff Lithic Technology: A Preliminary Analysis of the Wedding Site (11JY499). Midwestern Archaeological Conference, Columbus, Ohio.